

Child safety on TikTok

TikTok is a video-sharing app. Users can upload and share short videos of themselves lip-syncing to songs or acting out comedy sketches, and add special effects. They can gain followers ('fans') and browse other people's videos.

The age recommendation is 13 and above. However, you don't have to prove your age when creating an account, so younger children can still use it easily. It's most popular with under-16s.

What are the concerns:

You may have seen news reports or heard concerns about some users harassing children for nude images and videos. What should I look out for?

- User profiles which talk about 'trading' or swapping pictures/videos
- Use of emoji's that are commonly considered to be sexually suggestive (such as the aubergine)
- Hashtags, such as #tradedfortrade, which clearly suggest the user is looking to trade illicit content
- The lyrical content of some songs – parents have raised concerns that it's not always age-appropriate.

- Users cannot exchange images and videos via in-app messaging, but once they've made contact they move on to platform to trade, such as Snapchat.
- TikTok has taken steps to remove users who it suspects are soliciting underage users. However, there are still many suggestive profiles and TikTok has committed to almost doubling the number of content moderators it employs to 10,000 to address this.

What safety options are available to parents?

- Control who can view your child's videos
- Set your child's account to 'private' so that your child can control who sees their videos or keep them completely private. Your child will be able to approve or deny people as 'fans', and will only be able to accept messages from followers.
- Accounts are set to 'public' by default. Public profiles can be viewed by anyone.
- Even with a private account, your child's profile information can be seen by all users. Make sure your child doesn't reveal personal information on their public profile.

Make sure your child knows how to report inappropriate behaviour.

Your child can use the app to report content that makes them feel uncomfortable, including accounts, videos, comments and chats. You can too. Instructions for this are here:

You or your child can also block 'fans' at any time:

What else can I do?

1. Download and use the app to help you understand it
2. Talk to your child about what they're doing online, and make sure they know they can talk to you about anything that upsets them.
3. Check your bank statements regularly for in-app purchases you're not happy with, and to make sure your child isn't getting around any passwords you've set up.
